Here's the response we can send to D3. This is the language we reviewed yesterday and will go live on the Diridon project website soon.

The City is currently focused on the emergency response to the coronavirus pandemic. The effect on the overall timelines for Diridon Station Area projects is unknown at this time, but the new target for City Council consideration of Google's Downtown West Mixed-use Plan and amendments to the DSAP will shift from end of 2020 into the first half of 2021. Outreach and engagement will continue using online methods while restrictions are in place and staff capacity is limited. When possible, the City intends to resume a similar engagement process but with shifted end dates. Additional information on revised timelines and public engagement approach will be posted to the Diridon project website soon.

Hi Cheryl, Lori Severino has been working on a message going out to the SAAG this week about Diridon area schedules. Looping her in for coordination on messaging to see if there is a message ready for distribution today per D3 request.

Hi planning team – How would you like to respond to this question? We're supplying the response to D3 staff and CM Perez so they can answer this question tonight during a D3 zoom meeting.

Subject: Fw: Questions from Delmas Park

Hiya Cheryl!

D3 is corresponding with the Council Liaisons (Sal and Jerad) and asked the following question in preparation for a (virtual) Delmas Park Neighborhood Association Meeting tomorrow evening:

1. Will the City's consideration and approval of Google's Downtown West EIR and decisions on other major development proposals be delayed during this period to ensure that adequate outreach and public comment is given?

I know public hearings are proceeding through remote procedures, but this question seemed up your alley.

Thanks,
Emily

Subject: Questions from Delmas Park

Hello Sal and Jerad,

Councilmember Peralez will be joining Delmas Park Neighborhood Association for a virtual Q&A tomorrow evening. Residents have submitted questions in advance and we were wondering if you could provide any insight on the particular questions below?

1. Can the "San Jose 311" app still be used to send reports during this time?
2. Will the City's consideration and approval of Google's Downtown West EIR and decisions on other major development proposals be delayed during this period to ensure that adequate outreach and public comment is given?
3. Some of the residential construction projects are supposed to be essential. Are there any construction projects in our area that are active?

Thank you for your help. We greatly appreciate it!

Best,

Bridget Brown | Council Assistant
