Matt and All – On Wednesday, Google is submitting their updated plans to the City. Many complex documents will be posting to both www.sanjoseca.gov/GoogleProject and www.diridonsj.org – through a coordinated effort of project staff and consultants. It's big news and we are announcing this through a news release (coordinated by Elisabeth and Cheryl and including MO).

Once all the docs are posted – around 1-3pm -- we'd like the news release to publish.

As fyi, Google is holding previews of some of the info with both the media and council offices today-tomorrow.

Is it possible for you, Matt/Andrew, to be at the ready for a signal from us on Wednesday afternoon to publish the news release? The timing is important.

The release is being reviewed by Kim Walesh and Rosalynn Hughey today; we are checking if Leigh would also like to review. I'll likely have the release teed up in the govAccess system on Tuesday afternoon.

Thank you!
