Subject: DTW EIR Posted on City Website

Hello,

Luckily, Vision cooperated, and I (with Thai's assistance) was able to post the EIR files on the environmental review page. I also made edits to the description to reflect the current proposal, added reference to the diridon.org website, and made other minor edits to bring the page up to date.

Unfortunately, the Phase I ESA files were too large to upload to the website, so we may need someone in the office to try and upload the documents, as Thai confirmed they do not exceed the file size limit. I likely won't be able to come into the office for two weeks because I attended my sister's wedding over the weekend, so I plan to contact IT and/or Matthew Opsal in the morning to see if they can assist with uploading the files.

Thanks,

Shannon Hill, Planner

Back in business, hopefully I can finish before that happens again.

Hello,

Just letting you know the Vision website crashed while I was trying to post the EIR files, and I got the following error message. I will keep trying. Hopefully it will start working again soon!

Thanks,
