Thanks for the heads up Ron. I was expecting that from ESA, due to an editorial oversight when they submitted the Draft EIR.

Hi Shannon,

Just a heads up that you received a Memo from ESA stating that due to an editorial oversight, one appendix (Appendix E3, Historic Resources Relocation Studies) was inadvertently not included on the flash drive that they just gave you with this report. They sent a replacement drive, plus a replacement sheet for the Table of Contents, which didn't reference Appendix E3. I was attempting to attach a scanned copy of that letter but for some reason my system is no longer allowing me to access the scanned files. I'll see if Thanh of IT can help me resolve this issue. Restarting didn't do the trick and every time I click on the paperclip icon in order to browse the computer for files to attach to the email the computer freezes up.

Hi Ron,

Great, thanks! Yes, the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for this project is quite voluminous! Luckily, we don't need to print many hard copies.

FYI, I will be in the office tomorrow to handle another mailing task, so I will see you then .

Thanks,

Shannon Hill, Planner

Hi Shannon,

I placed this item on your office desk. The binder appears to be about 6" thick. I'm sure it will end up in a museum some day.
