[External Email]

Hi James,

I hope that his email finds you doing well. I wanted to reach out to you to find out some information about the new Google Dirodan Campus which is set to begin construction at sometime in 2021. I wanted to know what stage of the planning process the project was in? Has a general contractor for the project been chosen and if so who is it? Is there a contact at google who is in charge of the oversight of the project?

Looking forward to hearing back from you,

Pierce Philp
