Here is our communications contact for the company's project in San Jose, which is easily the largest thing on San Jose's horizon right now. They may not talk for attribution, but Michael is happy to lead you to source material, etc.

Google	San Jose – major new project	Michael Appel	Global Communications & Public Affairs	319.530.5397	mappel@google.com

Also, I am the contact for the City's spokesperson on economic development, Kim Walesh, the Deputy City Manager. Let me know about setting up an interview.

We are working on more contacts, and I will share them as they are confirmed, ok?
