Subject: Google Open House Event August 24

Hi,

Attached is the flyer for Google's Open House event on August 24th, (10:30-1:30) at which they will give a preview of their preliminary mixed-use plan and get feedback from community members. The event will take place in two large tents on Arena Green West. One tent will be for the presentation (same one twice at 11:00 and 12:30). Alexa will make the presentation, with possibly a welcome by Dave Sykes or me.

The other tent will be for a series of topical booths where people can learn more, engage, and ask questions. We will have a City booth there with information about "Related City Plans" (DSAP Amendment, Downtown Transportation Plan, Affordable Housing Plan, etc.). We will have City staff presence in our "San Jose" black and white t-shirts and name tags. We need 1-2 people that can talk about/answer questions on each of these topics (can be divided into shifts) - we are working with each department to determine which staff should attend.

It will be family/kid friendly, and there will be food trucks shared with the Creek Clean-up that is also happening this morning. They are planning for 400-600 people to pass through.

Google has started their invitation process, including reaching out to Councilmembers to invite them to attend and spread the word to their constituents. The invitation has also gone out to the SAAG.

The City is going to help spread the word. We will discuss this event at our C-SAAG meeting this afternoon at 3:30.

Thanks!

Kim
