Hi Lori,

That's great, thank you. I'll look forward to the update and follow up if I have more questions.

Thank you,

David

Thanks for checking in, David. I am going to send an update this week with some meeting dates for SAAG members. Happy to chat after sending that update to answer any remaining questions you may have!

Subject: SAAG update on DISC and DSAP update?

Hi Lori,

I hope you had a nice weekend. I wanted to reach out as a SAAG member to see whether there are any updates to share with the whole SAAG regarding the DISC process, which I understand might be coming to some decision points this month, as well as the DSAP update process, which I understand to be kicking off now that Google has officially submitted their project proposal.

Since there hasn't been an update sent to the SAAG in about a month on these topics and now that we've had major movement with Google submitting their project, I thought it would be helpful for the group to get an update on these recent events as well as a reminder of the calendar related to the DISC and DSAP update. Especially of interest would be what opportunities there will be for public/community input and engagement on these two items in the coming weeks/months.

Thank you very much,

David
