I agree that people might get confused. Might we advise Eva that Google place a sentence on their materials and/or verbally state at their meetings something like:

Google-sponsored workshops do not replace the City of San Jose’s process for an official record of public input on the project. Find City-hosted meetings and the City’s input process at www.sanjoseca.gov/GoogleProject.

Just spoke with John Tu and he agrees that “applicant-sponsored workshops” should be clearly distinguished from City community meetings.

Thanks for sharing. I just hope that residents don’t get confused with the different meetings. Also, I’m concerned about Google’s promotion of “limited space” for their workshop and that participants have to RSVP – thankfully they offer to hold more workshops if needed – and I’m sure they won’t turn people away if they reach capacity.

Hi Lori,

Below are the details for our Dec 7 event. We will have flyers at our table tonight. Ann and Ricardo will be there; I'll be at a different event this evening.

best,

Ava

Google Downtown West Mixed-Use Design Engagement Workshop

In October, Google submitted its Downtown West Mixed-Use Plan framework application and is now kicking off a series of workshops to gather community input on key priorities for design and public life. The initial input we gather will inform the Design Standards and Guidelines that will shape the look and feel of the Google project area.

On December 7th, we will host the first workshop and want your input to help create a place locals will be proud of and enjoy. We hope you will join us for one of the 45-minute time slots listed below.

Light refreshments and snacks will be provided. Kids welcome.

WHEN

Saturday, December 7, 2019

WHERE

20 S. Autumn Street
San Jose, CA 95113

TIME

Session 1: 1:00 pm - 1:45 pm
Session 2: 2:15 pm - 3:00 pm
Session 3: 3:30 pm - 4:15 pm

Each session covers the same content and can accommodate 45 participants. Space is limited, so please sign up as soon as possible for a time that works best for your schedule. Additional workshops will be planned on an alternate date(s) should interest exceed the capacity.

More details, including parking, will be provided after receiving your R.S.V.P.

If you have any questions, please contact us at sanjoseplan@google.com.

R.S.V.P.

Please register by December 6 at <http://bit.ly/gsjworkshop>
