I recall that there was some technical information in the draft EIR that would be useful to me. There is nothing for me to comment on; just need the info to help me figure out a electric load calc.

Hi Kevin,

All the files were removed after comments were complete for ADEIR3. Do you need to look at the files again before ADEIR4 is submitted?

Thanks,

Would you or someone else be able to provide me with the link to the current draft so I can review some of the data related to the electric distribution for some analysis that I'm doing? I don't have the previous link provided.
