Hi Amanda,

Thanks for your patience on this. I had to reach out to Public Works to understand the documents. They are the lead in the turnkey program.

They confirmed that many of the appendices (including Appendix 6) in this document may have outdated information that has not been updated in a PDF "guideline" format. This document is a good baseline for now because it does give an overview of the types of things we expect, but it's important to note that Google won't be expected to draw up construction documents based on this document alone. Once we are at the design kick-off stage, PW will provide the most up to date templates (in autocad, word, etc) to work directly off of, which includes things like autocad standards, plan notes, boilerplate technical specifications, etc.

PW also suggested looking over The City Standard Details/Specifications. This document is still used for all projects in the City.

Let me know if I can clarify anything further.

Thanks,

Hi Larissa,

Appendix 6 of the 2001 Turnkey Park Standards is referenced on page 3, table of contents. See attached.

Let's discuss the inputs during our meeting on Wednesday.

Thank you,
Amanda

Hi Amanda,

Happy New Year! Can you send me the documents that refer to Appendix 6?

Also, can you provide me the number of residential units and type (high rise or mid rise and affordable) north and south of Santa Clara?

Thanks,
Larissa

Hi Larissa,

Happy New Year! Apologies if you already received this request, but we were reviewing the turnkey park guidelines and were missing appendix 6 (typical construction details). Can you please send through that document at your earliest convenience?

Thank you,
Amanda
