Hi Adan,

Hope this message reaches you well. I am hoping we can set up a time to connect with you and Councilmember Carrasco to get some input/feedback.

My colleagues working on the Google Downtown West project have been in conversation with the Y-plan program, which is associated with UC Berkeley. Y-Plan is a unique, award-winning educational strategy that empowers young people to tackle real-world problems in their communities through project-based civic learning experiences. Many of these projects are real estate developments, engaging the students in action research in their local communities.

We'd love to connect with Councilmember Carrasco and yourself to chat about this and get your feedback. Please let us know if you might have time next week.

We look forward to connecting.

Best regards,
Javier
