Hi James,

Have you guys reached out to Shannon for contacts? She mailed out her tribal notifications for the CEQA process last year so we should be consistent with those contacts. I sent an updated request to the Native American Heritage Commission last week for an updated list but haven't heard back. Thai tells me it takes them awhile to get back to us, so you should go ahead and use Shannon's list.

Sending them a hard copy letter via USPS Certified Mail is a requirement, but you should also send them emails for their convenience. Let me know if you want to meet in the office this week to print, set up certified mail, and send them out. Wed - Fri works for me.

Jessica
