Hi Karl,

That's right! I didn't mean to leave out Pete. I worked with him a lot in the early stages. I think the list you provided below is doable for inclusion on the slide.

Thanks!

I would like to include Pete Choi, as he served as co-project manager while he was here, as well as Meryka Dirks (deputy project manager). Other than that, perhaps we can list the key technical leads:

- Heidi Rous (even though she is now departed), Brian Schuster, Sarah Patterson, and Victoria Hsu (AQ/GHGs)
- Erika Walter (Biological Resources)
- Becky Urbano and Heidi Koenig (Cultural Resources)
- Michael Burns (Hazardous Materials)
- Maria Hensel (Hydrology and Water Quality)
- Chris Sanchez (Noise)
- Jill Feyk-Miney (Utilities and Services)
- Shadde Rosenblum (Transportation)

Thank you.

Hi Karl,

Unfortunately, there is not enough room for the entire roster, since there are over 60 preparers, not including subconsultants (wow!).

Is there anyone else you would like to add. Elliott Schwimmer comes to mind, since he was heavily involved when we started the EIR process. However, please let me know who else should be included besides the three of you.

Thanks,

Shannon: If you do have room for the entire roster, I have one addition: Terah Donovan, of our biological resources staff, assisted in responding to the comments concerning the Santa Clara Valley Habitat Plan. (She used to work for the Habitat Agency.) With that addition, we will have listed all technical staff who spent 3 or more hours on the project! 😊

Thanks.

Hi Shannon,

Thanks for asking! If it's not too much, it would be great to include the list of preparers. (But if that's too long a list, we can pare it down too.)

Hillary

Hi there,

I have already added the three of you to the list of consultant acknowledgements. Should I also add the full list of preparers from the EIR? I can do that, or please provide a list so we don't leave anyone out .

Thanks!
